

Skyline: Tough, Very Tough!

Real World "Skyline" Survival Stories!

Tornados!

I bought your system 5, 20-01 collectors back in 2002 and have been very pleased with their performance. Just a quick note to let you know we had an F1 tornado damage over 100 houses in our neighborhood last Saturday, including ours.

As shown in the second picture, your panels are only 50 feet from a section of our roof that was ripped away, yet they remained intact and are still functioning normally. I've included the press release and pictures of our house.

Thanks for your great product. I wish my roof was rated for the same wind as your panels!

Jeff Marcotte
Bossier City, LA

-----
We received a call from our dealer, Enerwest Renewable Systems, in Saskatchewan, Canada who had a near miss with a Tornado. Their anemometer had a reading of 153

MPH! All their systems, including the Skyline System, survived "without a scratch!"

Hurricanes Miami Florida:

SolarRoofs.com received an Email from customer in Miami Florida who has owned a SolarRoofs system for 4 years. His Email Speaks for itself:

Hello Rich.

I thought I'd let you know that I have owned one of your systems for about 4 years now. We just had a massive hurricane come thru Florida. I live in Miami and about 5 minutes from the National Hurricane center here in Miami.

Our hot water panels are located on our roof facing south. The panels were facing directly into the on-coming winds from Hurricane Wilma. The National hurricane center clocked winds in excess of 105 MPH.

I wanted to let you know that the panels survived without a scratch even though the winds were very high.

We lost some of our awnings and trees did fall. The neighbor's shed was folded in half but your panels withstood the punishment with no problems at all. We are without electricity right now. I am e-mailing via gen. power.

Some of my neighbors are without hot water because of this but we have had hot water throughout this ordeal with no interruptions at all. I spoke with some people and I think they may have your system installed. I would love to resell these panels.

In any case this is real world info that may have been an interest to you.

Thanks

Andy Martinez

Hurricanes Marathon Florida and the Keys:

In a call from our dealer in Marathon Florida, SALT Services, we received news that all Skyline systems they installed survived "without a scratch!" Many other systems were on the ground. They said, SolarRoofs.com "Nailed It On The Head" with the design of the Skyline systems!

Lighthouse Marine, A SolarRoofs.com dealer in the Virgin Islands reported that after a hurricane there are Thermosyphon Tanks blown off of roofs "all over the place," not so with Skyline systems!